

Chi-Square Distribution

it is a continuous probability distribution used extensively in inferential statistics, particularly for hypothesis testing (goodness-of-fit, independence).