

Eigenvector and Eigenvalue

$$A \cdot V = \lambda \cdot V$$

where:

- $V$  is the eigenvector = the special vector that does not change direction
- $\lambda$  is the eigenvalue = a scalar (just a number) that tells you how much the vector was stretched or shrunk