

Probability Distribution

Probability Distribution is the big concept used to describe how probability is spread across possible values of a random variable.

PMF = Gives the exact probability that a discrete random variable equals a specific value.

Example: Rolling a dice

PDF = how dense is the probability around this value (Continuous)

CDF = Gives the probability that a random variable is less than or equal to a value t